Household Hazardous Waste Collection Drive-Thru Event At BuRRT

Saturday, November 4th, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Santa Fe Solid Waste Management Agency is hosting a free household hazardous waste collection drive-thru event for Santa Fe city and county residents at the Buckman Road Recycling and Transfer Station (BuRRT). The drive-thru format allows you to stay in your vehicle while trained staff unload the HHW materials from your car trunk, SUV cargo area, or pickup bed.

What is Household Hazardous Waste?

HHW materials are products with warning labels such as dangerous, toxic, flammable, combustible, corrosive and ignitable that can cause serious illness or pose an environmental or health threat if improperly handled or disposed of.

Acceptable HHW materials include:

- Motor oil, antifreeze, gasoline, automotive products
- Paints, thinners, stains, varnishes, solvents
- Aerosol cans, small propane tanks and canisters
- Household cleaning products, hobby chemicals
- Pesticides, herbicides, poisons
- Fertilizers, lawn products, swimming pool chemicals
- Car and rechargeable batteries, fluorescent bulbs
- Smoke alarms/detectors, fire extinguishers, road flares
- Mercury thermostats and thermometers

Do not bring:

- Electronic waste, televisions, appliances
- Ammunition, explosives, radioactive waste, asbestos
- Medical infectious waste, sharps, prescription drugs, oxygen cylinders

What if I can't make it to the event?

Residents can take their HHW materials to BuRRT every Friday and Saturday throughout the year during normal operating hours.
The minimum cost is $7.00 which covers up to 280 lbs.
Mercury-containing equipment and lamps are $0.50/unit.

NO COMMERCIAL OR BUSINESS WASTE ACCEPTED
