Household Hazardous Waste Collection Drive-Thru Event At BuRRT Saturday, Nov. 7, 9am - 1pm

The Santa The Santa Fe Solid Waste Management Agency is hosting a free household hazardous waste collection drive-thru event for Santa Fe city and county residents on Saturday, November 7, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., at the Buckman Road Recycling and Transfer Station (BuRRT). The drive-thru format lets you stay in your vehicle while trained staff unload the HHW materials from your car trunk, SUV cargo area, or pickup bed.

Products with warning labels such as dangerous, toxic, flammable, combustible, corrosive and ignitable are considered hazardous waste that can cause serious illness or pose an environmental or health threat if improperly handled or disposed of.

To prevent the spread of COVID-19, all residents must:

- Stay in their vehicle and wear a mask at all times.
- Place all materials in sturdy boxes and place them in the car trunk/ SUV cargo area/pickup bed, not inside the vehicle's passenger compartment.
- Limit to one trip.

Acceptable HHW materials include:

- Motor oil, antifreeze, gasoline, automotive product
- Paints, thinners, stains, varnishes, solvents
- Aerosol cans, small propane tanks and canisters
- Household cleaning products, hobby chemicals
- Pesticides, herbicides, poisons
- Fertilizers, lawn products, swimming pool chemicals
- Car and rechargeable batteries, fluorescent bulbs
- Smoke alarms/detectors, fire extinguishers, road flares
- Mercury thermostats and thermometers

What if I can't make it to the event?

Residents can take their HHW materials to BuRRT every Friday and Saturday throughout the year during normal operating hours. The cost is nominal at 2½ cents a pound with a 50 cent minimum.

Do not bring:

- Electronic waste, televisions, appliances
- Ammunition, explosives, radioactive waste, asbestos
- Medical infectious waste, sharps, prescription drugs, oxygen cylinders

NO COMMERCIAL OR BUSINESS WASTE ACCEPTED
