

WANTED

The Santa Fe Solid Waste Management Agency is looking for all old electronic items (e-waste) that Santa Fe city and county residents no longer want!

The Agency will take these items off your hands for FREE and recycle them properly on Saturday, October 7th, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

at the Buckman Road Recycling & Transfer Station (BuRRT).

This is a drive-thru event that allows you to stay in your vehicle while trained staff unload the e-waste from your trunk or pickup bed.

What is E-Waste?

E-waste is electronic equipment that is near or at the end of its useful life. Certain components of e-waste contain toxic materials such as lead, mercury and cadmium.

Acceptable E-Waste includes:

- Computers, keyboards, mice, cables
- Monitors, televisions, cords
- Laptops, printers, scanners
- Telephones, cell phones, tablets, cameras
- Gaming systems and stereo equipment
- Small appliances, microwaves, toasters

Do not bring:

- Rear-projection televisions
- Large CRT televisions
- Batteries
- Lightbulbs, fluorescent bulbs
- Smoke alarms
- Large household appliances
- Household hazardous waste

What if I can't make it to the event?

Residents can take E-Waste to BuRRT any day of the week during normal operating hours. The minimum cost is $7.00 which covers up to 280 lbs.

Televisions and computer monitors are $10.00/unit.
